

For Immediate Release:
April 29, 2009

Contact: Adam Emmer
Transportation Manager
City of Burbank
(818) 238-5359

Burbank Bus Joins Twitter

Burbank, CA – Burbank Bus has made traveling throughout the City of Burbank even easier. On Monday, April 27, 2009, the Burbank Bus joined the widely popular social networking site Twitter.

Twitter is a free service that lets users keep in touch through the exchange of quick and short notes, known as tweets. By registering at www.twitter.com, Burbank Bus commuters, residents, and visitors can become Burbank Bus “followers.” Twitter allows users to receive real-time updates on their cell phones and computers regarding route delays, service changes, and special announcements. To register and follow Burbank Bus on Twitter, visit www.twitter.com/burbankbus.

“People have become very technically-savvy while cell phones have become pocket-size computers,” commented City of Burbank Transportation Manager Adam Emmer. “It is important that the Burbank Bus provide its users with as many resources as possible to enhance their travel needs.”

Burbank Bus continues to take part in the ever-expanding world of technology. Along with joining Twitter, Burbank Bus was one of the first ten agencies to be incorporated into the Google Transit system. Transit riders can plan their trip by visiting the Google Transit Trip Planner at www.google.com/transit.

Burbank Bus operates five convenient routes, mornings and evenings, throughout the City of Burbank. For route and schedule information, call (818) 246-4258 or visit www.burbankbus.org.

###